Both state and metro economy will feel healthy by year-end. Sales tax may turn around in May of this year. FY 2017 reminiscent of mild recession while FY 2018 is set up for recovery.

#

Railroad Quiet Zone. The Railroad Quiet Zone Project is being implemented with final warning signs being installed this week. Notification from the Burlington Northern Santa Fe (BNSF) Railroad that the Quiet Zone will begin at midnight Friday with a 24 to 48 hour gradual decrease in the train horns. The Quiet Zone does not guarantee that the horn will never be sounded because train crews will have the discretion during different types of emergencies or safety issues. In addition, BNSF has federal requirements that horns must be sounded when there is maintenance being performed on the tracks. During a 24 hour period, horns are sounded a total of 2.5 hours a day and this will be a major change which will impact those who live near the railroad tracks.
