Mayor Clark said the City of Norman Ethics Ordinance directs Councilmembers to recuse on items in which they have an actual conflict of interest or pecuniary interest or to disclose a possible conflict of interest on a particular item to avoid the perception of a conflict of interest. She said she has consulted with the City Attorney's Office on this matter and while she does not have a pecuniary interest that may vary with the outcome of Council's decision on this item, it is possible that a conflict of interest could be perceived due to her employment by the University of Oklahoma. She affirmatively states that she intends to cast her vote on this item but she will not incur a benefit, detriment, or other pecuniary interest regardless of her vote on this item regarding the donation of the sensors.

COUNCIL COMMENTS

Treaty Rights Case. Councilmember Bierman said she has been listening to a podcast called “This Land” regarding the supreme court case of Patrick Murphy, a Muscogee/Creek enrolled citizen, who was convicted of a murder which he readily confessed to and the state decided even though congress may have intended to disestablish the tribal land in that area, there are questions whether or not Congress actually did that. She said the podcast is done by Rebecca Nagle, a Cherokee enrolled member and this could possibly be the most important treaty rights case in a generation or more. She said the court is expected to rule next term whether the 1866 reservation boundaries for the Muscogee, Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw and Seminole Nations were formally disestablished. She said the 3 million acres that comprise this territory includes most of Tulsa. She said this is germane because there is tribal land in the City of Norman and the State of Oklahoma has spent $600,000 of taxpayer money to defend their handling of the case instead of remanding it over to the tribal courts. At the state and federal level, laws have been bent to chip away at tribal rights. She said this podcast could potentially have longstanding implications on tribal rights and sovereignty. She said this could be a future issue in Norman particularly regarding water rights.

Councilmember Comments, continued:

Treaty Rights Case, continued. Councilmember Petrone said she is also listening to this podcast and she suggested that others should listen.

*

Happy Birthday Sereta. Councilmember Bierman wished Councilmember Wilson a happy birthday.

*

Economic Development Market Street Report. Councilmember Carter said he felt the money that would be in the hands of a bureaucrat would be better spent in the hands of the public. He said the City has very real needs such as CART and Council welcomes the challenge. He said public transportation has an expansive horizon to it and it will need funding. He said to hand economic development to a closed group of bureaucrats is not a place he wants to go.

*

Norman Citizens for Racial Justice. Councilmember Petrone said she wanted to incorporate by reference for her time on Council that she took a pledge for the Norman Citizens for Racial Justice.

*

Thanks to Robert Castleberry and Mayor Miller. Councilmember Petrone said she did not get a chance last week to thank Councilmember Castleberry for serving as Councilmember in Ward Three and looks forward to remaining friends with him and will be giving him a call if she has questions.

Councilmember Holman said he is now the longest serving Councilmember since Robert Castleberry. He said he appreciated Robert's service to Norman.

Mayor Clark thanked Lynne Miller and Robert Castleberry for their service.

*

Additional Charter Amendments. Councilmember Petrone said she would like to add some Charter amendments for the Charter Review Commission to look at. She said the Ward Three representative is unable to sit on the Charter Review Commission and she would like to find a replacement to be appointed.

Mayor Clark said this will be on the agenda on June 23rd.

Councilmember Wilson said she had a representative from Ward Five that will be unable to serve and will find a replacement.

*

Water Donations to Little Axe Volunteer Fire Department. Councilmember Wilson said the Little Axe Volunteer Fire Department is asking for donations of bottled water and Gatorade. She said if those who wished to donate could drop the water off at Annie's Ruff House or take it to the Little Axe Community Center.

*

Welcome New Councilmembers. Councilmember Wilson welcomed the new councilmembers.

Councilmember Scott and Mayor Clark welcomed Councilmembers Petrone and Scanlon.

*

Thanks to Council. Councilmember Scanlon said he wanted to thank his fellow councilmembers for making him feel welcome. He said Mayor Clark has left large shoes for him to fill and he will try. He thanked City Staff for beginning the orientation process. He said he had a lot to learn and was looking forward to serving his constituents.

*

Serving on City Council. Councilmember Holman said he and Lynne Miller were sworn in on the same night which created a pretty strong connection. He said he is starting his seventh year on City Council and has served with 21 different Councilmembers and three mayors. He said there were two from Ward One, four from Ward Two; two from Ward Three; two from Ward Four; three from Ward Five; four from Ward Six; and four from Ward Eight.
